Gardening Club have been working exceptionally hard over the past few weeks to prepare our entry into Bromley's annual Wheel Barrow Competition. Careful thought, planning and preparation has gone into this year's entry and I think you will agree that the result is amazing. What the photograph doesn't show is the wonderful tactile quality of the piece. The children decided to use water gel beads which not only add extra colour they make you want to plunge your hands right in! If you are out and about in Bromley this weekend please take the time to vote for us - last year we came away winners and we are hoping to do the same again this year. Judging takes place at 1pm

On Wednesday we were joined by the 'Everyone Music Matters' project and were treated to the most magnificent concert. Margaret and her ensemble worked tirelessly all day with the whole of year 5 to teach them to perform as part of their orchestra. Several parents from year 5 joined us for the afternoon and Ates' mum said that she could not believe how professional the children were and how they had managed such a performance in only a day of rehearsals! We sincerely hope the day inspired some of our young people to take up learning an instrument. Clips of the pieces will be added to our website and they are well worth a listen!

Year 3 have had a busy term and the teachers have worked exceptionally hard to organise a number of trips out and about to support their Ancient Greek topic work. Last week the children visited Crofton Roman Villa and the Dulwich

Picture Gallery where they created some terrifying mythical beasts! Today they spent the day at the British Museum to investigate life in Ancient Greece.

Before I sign off I would like to thank you all for sending your children in to school in such wonderful costumes for Worsley's World Book Day on Monday. It really was the perfect start to our Author Focus Fortnight! We are looking forward to the parade next Friday and hope that you will be there to see all the great work the children have produced!

Wishing you all a fantastic weekend.
