We have had another jam packed week of learning at Worsley Bridge! Professor Bubble Works launched our STEM week with a fabulous assembly about air. Millie and Daniel competed to see if they could hold 2 ping pong balls in the air using a hair drier, Sienna and Chaya were challenged to blow out a candle and then the hall was smothered in toilet roll using a leaf blower! Sounds intriguing? Ask your children to tell you more about the power of the wind!

All week the school has buzzed with the excitement of scientific learning! Classes have built and launched rockets, created slime, prepared bird feeders, constructed parachutes, made jellyfish and some have even recreated 'poo' to see how archaeologists and scientists have investigated this to help us find out about the way we live! It has been a truly inspiring week and I would like to thank Miss Letsu, Miss Pilkington, the teachers and TAs for organising such a memorable week of learning!

To enhance our week even further there have been a number of exciting outings. I spent lunchtime talking with Macy, Ellie and Scarlett about their visit to the Natural History Museum to support their Earthquake and Volcano' topic work. All the girls agreed that they had had an excellent day and in particular looking at the fossils and bug life cycles. During the visit the children experienced what it would be like to be in an earth quake as they went in a special room that shook to simulate the ground during a tremor. When I asked the girls how they would rate the trip they scored it a 9 out of 10. It would have been a ten had they been able to spend longer there!

Reception children excelled themselves on their visit to the Discovery Centre and because their teachers were so impressed they each earned a ping pong ball for their jar! Other visits included the High Street, the London Eye and The Observatory! Well done Worsley Bridge it is wonderful to see you all out and about and the compliments about your good behaviour have made me exceptionally proud!

Ready, Steady Read!

I am very pleased to announce that as a school we raised £995.66. This means that with the commission we have a total of £1593.05 to spend on books for our school. This is amazing! Thank you very much too all the children and families who kindly took part and supported our sponsored read. We couldn't have achieved this without your support. I will announce the individual children who have raised the most amount of money in assembly on Monday.
