As technology continues to dominate the world that we live in it is really important that we work hard to keep our children safe when they are online. At school we regularly visit the topic of internet safety and have very strict controls in place to help keep the children on safe sites at school. We are aware that this can be difficult to manage at home when new apps are coming out every day.

As a parent it can be very hard to decide what to let your child access, particularly when 'peer pressure' is involved. Most apps have a guide age but it can still be very easy for a child to access them. The link below provides some really useful information on the pros and cons around different apps, computer programmes, movies, their age restrictions and the reasons behind them as well as common sense views and opinions from parents. Most importantly it provides advice on how to ensure the privacy settings are adjusted to keep your child safe should you decide to let them use one. A sample guide can be found by following this link www.commonsensemedia.org/blog/parents-ultimate-guide-to-tiktok

Homework at Worsley Bridge continues to impress us all! Take a look at Ethen's space themed game. It really is incredible-the attention to detail in the rules, the care given to the presentation and how it links to the topic really is fantastic. Equally impressive are the globes made by Lucy and Maisie. The girls said they really enjoyed working together to create their worlds but they found positioning the pieces of land particularly challenging. The flags you can see are used to show key features such as the continents, hemispheres and poles! Well done to all of you-your teachers must be very proud indeed!

Before I sign off this week can I please ask you to remember to help your child tie back long hair (both girls and boys)? Not only does this stop hair falling across faces while the children are working it can help prevent the spread of head lice.

Wishing you a good week ahead.

Mrs Williams

Charity Collection

Recently Rania and some of her friends in year 4 asked if they could do some work in school to help raise money for Battersea Dog and Cat's home. The children have written to the organisation, received a fund raising pack and since then they have been very busy working with Mrs Ryan to prepare a number of crafts such as mask making, making models of dogs and cats and colouring tasks that the children can complete at lunch time. All children need to do is make a small donation to take part.
